Job description

HSR Psychology is part of the Tx Group: a growing private therapy company, providing a variety of health and education therapy services in the North West of England.

HSR provides Clinical Psychology services to individuals and educational establishments. We work with children, adolescents and young adults to maximise wellbeing and potential by providing immediate access to a broad range of psychology services. HSR believes all children and young people should have their needs met at home and in the community so they can be happy, safe and ready to cope with life's challenges.

HSR Psychology is currently developing a service that offers specialist assistance to children and young adults experiencing either eating disorders. We will provide a supportive outpatient service for those who are seeking immediate treatment and adopt a multidisciplinary team approach to achieve fast and effective results for children and their families in overcoming food related problems. Our philosophy is patient-centred and we are committed to providing the highest standard of care to everyone we treat, helping our clients achieve their goals in a professional, caring, safe and supportive environment.

We have an exciting opportunity for an Assistant Clinical Psychologist to join our team, based in the centre of Manchester. The role will initially involve helping set up the service and duties will include completing research, establishing a website and service documentation and marketing and promotion. Duties will progress on to assisting our psychologists in the provision of 1:1 and group interventions and working alongside a multidisciplinary team of professionals involved with the eating disorder service including Clinical Psychologists, Family Therapists, Dietitians, Psychiatrists and Gastroenterologists, Mental Health team and Specialist Nurses. The successful applicant will receive supervision from our Clinical Psychologists.

What does it take to be successful in this role?

To be successful in this role you would need to:

- Be passionate about developing the service and keep our clients interests at the centre of all you do.
- Apply excellent research and analytical skills.
- Have strong computer skills and a good eye for detail.
- Demonstrate motivation and enthusiasm for helping children and young adults overcome their problems.
- Communicate effectively with clients, potential clients and colleagues - building the reputation of the company and securing business where possible.
- Be flexible in your approach and capable of working both independently and as part of a team.
- Take responsibility for managing your time and commitments appropriately.
- Have a good understanding of evidence based practice and it's application in the field
- Have an innovative and creative approach.
- Build rapport and gain confidence from the parents and children you work with
- Act as a champion for HSR Psychology.
